

FIS ROLLERSKI WORLD CUP FINALS 2008

THESSALONIKI-LITOHORO

SEPTEMBER, 20-21 2008

GREECE

OBVENUES

The city of Thessaloniki is moving forward into the third millennium, bearing more than 23 centuries of Greek Macedonian history and civilization. It is the city of history, of legends, of battles, of generals, of saints, of friendship, of trade, of industry, of banking, of congresses, of hospitality, of stability, of investments, of monuments and museums.

The Municipality of Thessaloniki is currently implementing a long-term and multidimensional plan, which establishes Thessaloniki as the cultural, spiritual and financial metropolis of the extended region of South Eastern Europe, the Black Sea zone, and the Eastern Mediterranean basin.

Today, the city of Thessaloniki rises to the contemporary challenges of the times. With drive and enthusiasm it opens up new avenues of activity and prospects, avenues of the future; avenues of culture on the traces of the ancient Via Egnatia, the old road of Philippos, which unites the magic of the East with the rationalism of the West, the developed North with the developing South; avenues of religion, between Mount Olympus of the ancient idols and the God-protected Mount Athos of Orthodox Christianity, which begin and end up in the labyrinthine catacombs of Saint Demetrius, avenues of spirituality, with people and creations, whose range surpasses the borders of the Greek territory, and which revive and shape with their art the thousand-year-long history of the city; avenues of development, with indexes and goals equal to the dynamism and vision of the people and collective agents of the city; avenues of European orientation, which establish the city in the mainstream of the culture of Europe, the self-government of Europe, the future of Europe.

Litohoro - an incomparable composition of natural and traditional colours at the foot of Mt. Olympus and close to the shores of Pieria, in the southern corner of Macedonia. Litohoro is a unique combination of mountain and sea. In the atmosphere, cool mountain air mingles with the sea breeze. In the book of time myth meets history and history tradition. In this landscape of changing hues and aesthetic harmony natural beauty unites with human warmth. Litohoro, this little town with its long history and rich impressions, spreads over the slopes of Greece's highest mountain. Picturesque and hospitable, Litohoro is ready at all times and in all seasons to offer its services to the traveller.

Winter, summer, spring and autumn, nature is always at its best. This is the starting point for ventures into the unsurpassed environment of Olympus, for the excitement of ascending to the home of the ancient gods. Here, at an altitude of 300 m., one can set out on rambles into wooded ravines, places of diverse vegetation, the superb Enipea river valley. But not far from here one can also sample all the pleasures of the sea from Pieria's magnificent beaches. Here, too, in Litohoro's narrow lanes and open squares, the cohesion and authenticity of folk culture is more than evident among the houses built in the characteristic style of Macedonia.

Litohoro - the second largest municipality in Pieria with 7,000 inhabitants - welcomes its visitors with gentility, cleanliness and courtesy, offering them the proper infrastructure and all the amenities ensuring a pleasant holiday of whatever length, even just a weekend.
